Effectively Progress WG Drafts

- One view of the problem
 - Draft is accepted as a working group draft
 - Then there is no mails to the list for 6 months
 - We get the «soon to expire» message
 - Chairs ask the authors for their plans
 - The response (may be) that the draft has been stable for 6 months and is ready for wglc

Effectively Progress WG Drafts

- Authors/Editors responsibilities
 - The wg does not normally explicitly appoint editors, i.e. all the names listed on a wg draft are considered «editors»
 - The task of an author/editor is to capture what we have wg consensus on
 - This requires discussion on the mailing list and transparency
 - Authors/Editors need to drive this discussion

Effectively Progress WG Drafts

- WG Chairs responsibilities
 - WG Chairs do not (normally) drive discussion on single documents
 - WG Chairs will handle the document process, but need a trigger
 - WG Chairs normally reviews a document twice; before MPLS-RT review and before wglc.
 - WG Chairs may trigger reviews of document from thrid parties, either one their own or if asked by the authors

Effectively Progress WG Drafts

- Working Group responsibilities
 - Working Group owns the document, i.e. the Working Group has the revision control
 - The owner needs to give feedback and respond to questions/proposals from the editor(s)
 - All technical discussions on a document should take place on the wg mailing list.

General Advice

- Take it to the mailing list!
- Otherwise nothing happens!
